As employees at UConn and UConn Health, we each have a responsibility to do the right thing. The University's Code of Conduct is the foundation we can rely on to guide daily activities. Below are a few important reminders regarding the Code of Conduct.

The Code's Purpose

The Code serves three key purposes:

1. Communicates Expectations - It sets the basic standards of workplace behavior expected of all members of the UConn and UConn Health community.
2. Advances Ethics & Integrity - It publicly affirms the University's long-term commitment to the highest standards of integrity in education, research, health care, public engagement and service.
3. Guides Employee Decisions and Promotes Compliance - It helps assure that UConn and UConn Health employees understand their shared responsibility for keeping the University in full compliance with all applicable laws, regulations and policies.
Helpful Tips for Applying the Code

- Read It (Regularly) - Read and understand the Code of Conduct.
- Follow the standards - Many of our policies are based on the standards in the Code. Keep yourself updated on and adhere to University expectations.
- Seek Guidance - When in doubt, consult the Code or seek further guidance to ensure you proceed in a manner that is consistent with the Code.
- Complete Compliance Training - Participate in annual compliance training, which provides an overview of the Code of Conduct.
- Be Alert & Share - Be alert to your actions, share your learnings and best practices, and speak up if you become aware of or suspect a potential concern.
