As you know, UConn employees are subject to several compliance-related trainings each year. These trainings are imperative to the success of the institution and to ensure employees are receiving important information in an effort to ensure compliance with institutional policies as well as state and federal laws. In addition to those trainings, employees are also required to annually complete the University Compliance and Ethics Training, offered by the Office of University Compliance.

About the 2022 University Compliance & Ethics Training

This training can be completed through an online Saba module or through a live WebEx experience. This year’s training will launch for both UConn and UConn Health employees on January 31, 2022 and must be completed by May 27, 2022.

Topics covered in this year’s training include:

1. The University’s Code of Conduct
2. The State Code of Ethics
3. Compliance Reminders and Updates

For More Information

Click here to view Frequently Asked Questions related to this year's training.

For more information, please go to compliance.uconn.edu or contact the Office of University Compliance at compliance.training@uconn.edu.